Information for Auditing Students

Upon application, individuals who want to attend individual lectures and seminars can be granted auditing student status without being enrolled as a regular student.

You can find the current courses in the Campus course directory at www.campus.rwth-aachen.de. (Courses are organized by course of study.)

Please note that it is not possible for auditing students to participate in courses of restricted-admission courses of study. Furthermore, it is not possible for auditing students to participate in language courses.

Auditing students do not possess the right to participate in examinations. They are not enrolled as regular students. However, auditing students are members of the University.

Individuals who wish to be admitted as an auditing student pay an auditing fee of €100 according to §2 of the RWTH Aachen Charges Statute dated February 26, 2015.

If an individual has a very low income and no other financial support or means are available, upon request, the auditing fee may be waived. Evidence of the financial hardship must be provided. The application must be made within the registration period. To apply, please get in touch with the Registrar’s Office.

Application Process
In order to be admitted as an auditing student, please register via RWTHonline. There you will find further information on how to pay the auditing fee. In a next step, you can download the application form for auditing students. Please fully complete this form and submit it to the Registrar’s Office within the deadline.

Application Period / Deadline
March 3 – April 27, 2018 (for the summer semester of 2018)

Please note: If you apply late or the auditing fee is received after the deadline, a late fee of €7,60 is due according to the RWTH Aachen Charges Statute.
