This is umlaut!

umlaut is a global, full-service, cross-industry, end-to-end company that offers advisory and fulfilment services to clients all over the world. Our interdisciplinary capabilities enable us to add value, quality and focus to their organisations and products.

We are an able and agile group of consultancies and engineering firms. 4.300+ specialised experts and engineers provide innovative solutions across all industries and their various intersections as well as serving the public sector and developing organisational cultures, structures and processes.

As umlaut, we change industrial and organisational advisory and fulfilment services from regular to special. Our special mark is to help our clients all over the world to change the quality of their technological capabilities and organisational culture for the better.

We add value on top of their services, products and entire organisational fabric, all the way throughout our partnership.

This is you!

Our people are everything to us. They are the ones who enable us to add something on top of our clients' organisations, services and products. So, of course we care about them a lot. And add opportunities and perspectives on top of our people's careers and personal development. If you know really know your stuff and can walk the talk, if you have the confidence to challenge the state of the art and change it for the better, if you think you can add something on top in your field of expertise and that you can go pretty far alone, but much further together as a team, we would love to hear from you. In a cross-industry company with flat hierarchies and an entrepreneurial start-up culture, we have chances for you in abundance - and they're there for the taking.
